

Narbonne Ave. Baptists Get Award as 'Church of Year'

The Narbonne Ave. Baptist Church of Lomita was honored at the recent annual meeting of the Los Angeles Association of Southern Baptist Churches, as the "church of the year."

A certificate of recognition was presented to the pastor, the Rev. Robert A. Wells. The pastor gave the award to the chairman of deacons, Herbert McCann, who presented the certificate of award to the church on Sunday morning at the worship service.

McCann said, "I am proud to be a member of this church. I know with God's help this church will continue to grow. I am also proud of my pastor and I promise him my earnest support."

The Church has voted to employ a full-time Minister of Music and Education, to insure the continued growth of the local church. This new worker will allow a greater emphasis on youth work. A music program for young people as well as social and recreational activities will be strengthened by the coming of this new church employee.

F. D. FIELDS... Navy Recruiter

LOCAL MAN JOINS NAVY STAFF HERE

F. D. Fields, a Torrance resident, has joined the staff of the Navy Recruiting Station, 16422 Vermont Ave.

A veteran of 13 years in the Navy, Fields plans to retire in seven years, at the age of 37. He lives at 165 W. 223rd St., with his wife, Lee, and three children, DeWayne, and Twins, Bryant and Beverly.

His last duty station was aboard the U.S. Hamul, a destroyer tender which recently returned from the Far East.

Fields will answer questions about Navy service at the recruiting office from 8 to 5, Monday through Friday and until noon Saturdays. He pointed out that high school graduates now are guaranteed the field of their choice and a Navy technical trade school in that field.

He will be in front of the local Bank of America this Thursday to answer questions about the Navy.

Local Woman Seeks Title

A petite red-headed Torrance woman, Helen Alves, 4210 Cathann St., is one of nine contestants for the homecoming queen title at Harbor Junior College.

The winner will be elected this Thursday and Friday and will reign over the homecoming dance on Nov. 2.

Mrs. Alves, a vocational nursing major, is sponsored by Upsilon Nu Sigma sorority. Her campaign manager is Mrs. Mae Ramplay, also of Torrance.

Maximum Security Unit to Commence Operation Soon

Immediate removal of 700 maximum security prisoners from the overcrowded main County jail at the Hall of Justice was forecast by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

He announced that the new maximum security unit at the Walside Honor Rancho is ready for occupancy, except for final testing and adjustments to the heating system.

County Engineer John A. Lambie reported that the boilers for the heating system have been fired up and will be kept burning for 48 hours for testing," Supervisor Hahn stated.

Move Slated

If the heating system works properly, the Sheriff's department can start moving the prisoners from the main jail to the unit over soon, he declared.

In company with Capt. Robert Karney, commander of the new maximum security unit and former commander of the Lennox Sheriff's station, Supervisor Hahn made a detailed inspection of the new facility Monday and learned that the detention unit is all set for operation just as soon as the heating system has been put in operation.

New Unit

The new maximum security unit is the finest and most modern detention facility of its kind in the United States today, Supervisor Hahn said, pointing out that preliminary "dry run" operations had disclosed no problems of any kind to be solved before it is placed in full use.

Film Slated On Viet Nam

"South Viet-Nam—Outpost in Asia" will be the topic of Marion Dix as she presents the first motion picture coverage of the democratic half of recently partitioned Viet-Nam at the third program of the South Bay Adult School's Fall Forum Series Monday, Oct. 28.

The program will begin at 7:45 in the Redondo Union High School auditorium. The film follows the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce's "Operation Brotherhood" into the heart of the little known country and watches volunteer doctors, nurses and social workers minister to the needs of the natives.

Finish High School, Navy Chief Urges

If you're thinking about dropping out of high school to join the Navy, think twice.

That's the word from Chief Vince Lawlor, chief Navy recruiter for this area, with offices at 16422 Vermont Ave.

The navy is happy to get any men over 17, but those who finish high school can get a lot better deal, Lawlor declared. The possession of a high school diploma offers a young man the choice of any Navy job field he wants, and specialized training in that field through the Navy's high school graduate training program, the chief said.

Advancement and attendance at Navy schools come faster for high school graduates, although there are opportunities for both the non-graduates, Lawlor said.

"A high school education makes a man more of an asset to his community," the recruiter said. "If he plans a tour in the Navy, he will be more valuable because of the specialized training he can take advantage of immediately. Consider the Navy's 'stay in school' policy."

LA Schools Start Drive For Teachers

An intensive recruitment campaign for regular and part-time teachers for Los Angeles schools in the Harbor area was started this week, as flu took a heavy toll among instructors in the area.

A representative of the Los Angeles Schools will give teacher exams at Harbor Junior College, 1111 Figueroa Pl., Wilmington, on Oct. 26 and Nov. 2 at 9 a.m. Ross Hancock, principal of Hawaiian Ave. School, will conduct the program.

Requirements for both long-term or substitute assignments include a bachelor's degree, with six hours in professional education, and ages between 19 and 66. Salaries range from $22.50 to $29.45 per day.

Case Given Scholarship

Herbert Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Case, 3765 W. 244th St., will be one of 17 Pomona College students to be greeted by the Pomona Alumni Council at a reception today in Claremont.

These 17 are the winners of Alumni Assn. scholarships for the coming year. The council will greet them before its first meeting of the year.

Case is an applied art major in his sophomore year.

LOAN LEAGUE POST GOES TO BOB FINCH

Youth Will Host Meeting

The rally will open at 2:30 p.m., with Rev. Erling Wold, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Los Angeles, as main speaker. Two surprise "world famous" speakers are slated in evening sessions starting at 7:30 p.m.
